SIX PLAYER CO-REC SIMPLIFIED VOLLEYBALL RULES

1. A team consists of six players. Three in the front row, three in the back row.
2. The far right back row position (when facing the net) is the server's position.

After each side out, the team who has just won the serve shall rotate one position clockwise. This includes the first side out of the game. Therefore, on the team receiving serve to begin the game, the player who began the game in the right front position, not the player who began in the server's position, will be the first to serve on that team.

3. Violations:

A team may not hit the ball more than three times in an attempt to return it to the opponents' side of the court.

A team may not cause a ball to hit outside the playing area. The boundary lines are considered part of the playing area.

A ball contacting the floor, stage curtain, wall, bleachers, or center divider is a dead ball resulting in a point or side out. A ball contacting the ceiling or any fixture suspended above the court may be played only by the team contacting the ball and only if the ball contacted the ceiling on that team's side of the net. For example, the second hit by Team A contacts the ceiling above Team A's side of the court, then comes down on Team A's side. Team A may use its third hit. However, if the ball comes down on Team B's side, or contacts the ceiling above Team B's side, it is a point or side out to Team B.

For safety reasons, the ball may not be played from within the boundaries of the adjacent playing court.

It is a violation to lift or carry the ball. A prolonged contact of the ball in player's hands constitutes a lift or carry. The ball may be received with open hands as long as it is not caught, held, or thrown.

Net Violations: A player may not – at ANY time come in contact with the net whether playing the ball offensively or defensively. The ONLY exception to this rule is when a ball spiked by an opponent drives the net into a player.

Legal Contact in regards to sides: A player's hand may follow through passed the "vertical plane of the net" to the opponents side after legally contacting the ball when spiking or playing a ball. A defensive player may NOT contact a ball on the offensive side of the court until the ball has reached the "vertical plane of the net." (NOTE: "vertical plane of the net" is that area of the net, should the net be extended to the ceiling from antenna to antenna).

A player may not go under the net or completely across the center court area in an attempt to play a ball.

A server may not step inbound until the ball has been fallen below the top of the net.

An opposing team may not make contact with a served ball until part of the ball has fallen below the top of the net.

Back line players are not allowed to block or hit the ball across the net if they are on or in front of the 10 foot line and the ball is completely above the height of the net.

Winning teams must report all three game scores to the Gym Director.
